(Leave blank – to be filled by ACCESS staff only)

Organization Mission and Work: The mission of the Center for New North Carolinians (CNNC) at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, home of the AmeriCorps ACCESS Project, is to promote access and integration for immigrants and refugees in North Carolina by bridging newcomer populations with existing communities through direct service provision, research, and training. This is achieved through community-based programs, such as the AmeriCorps ACCESS Project, which partners with organizations to host AmeriCorps Volunteers who assist immigrant and refugee families in integration by connecting them with resources, offering academic support, and facilitating job opportunities to achieve self-sufficiency. CNNC also promotes cultural understanding through community education and advocacy.

AmeriCorps Volunteer Impact: AmeriCorps ACCESS Volunteers make a profound impact by empowering immigrant and refugee families to build successful lives in their new communities. They connect individuals to critical resources, such as employment assistance, education, and healthcare, while fostering a sense of belonging and self-sufficiency. Through their service, AmeriCorps Volunteers help bridge cultural divides, support community integration, and create opportunities for individuals to thrive. Their dedication not only transforms lives but also uplifts the fabric of multicultural communities.

AmeriCorps Volunteers in the ACCESS Project gain hands-on experience and specialized training that help build a strong foundation for careers in social work, non-profit, immigration law, education, and beyond.

This program is available to all, without discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, pregnancy, religion, age, national origin, genetic information, disability, military status, familial status, political affiliation, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Applicants with disabilities are encouraged to apply and may request reasonable accommodations, such as a virtual interview instead of an in-person interview, extra time for processing questions, or materials provided in advance.

Accepted AmeriCorps Volunteers may request reasonable accommodations in accordance with applicable laws and program policies.
